

CAVITIES

What's the truth?

Cavities are caused by an imbalance between risk factors for the disease and protective factors keeping you healthy.

Why should I care?

Based on your assessment and balance, your dental professional may recommend a grouping of products (kit) appropriate for your level of risk. Other protective factors may include the modification of risk factors, an effective diet, and regular check-ups.

THE CTx GUIDE

There are five treatment agents prescribed for managing the disease that causes cavities. Each CariFree product is designed to provide the specific agents necessary as per each individual patient's caries risk. The higher the patient's risk, the higher the recommended level of exposure to the five principle treatment agents.
